

PARTY ROCKIN' IN THE HOUSE

CELEBRATE YOUR BIRTHDAY CHILD WHILE SOCIAL DISTANCING

Fun ways to celebrate your birthday child while "staying home"

PLAN A PARADE!

Ask your child's friends to drive by with birthday signs, balloons, honks ... they can all pull up in front of house and open car windows and sing happy birthday to the child.

MAKE A BIRTHDAY TIME CAPSULE

Include news articles from the day, pictures of your child, fill out birthday interview about favorite colors, foods, etc and then they can put it away and open as adult to remember their historical 2020 Bday! (See our Pinterest Board for bday interview questions)

MAKE A BIG DEAL AT HOME!

Decorate with balloons and streamers! Bake a cake, cupcakes or cake balls! Check out our Pinterest board for lots of ideas for at home ideas to make your birthday child feel special including easy recipes to make together.

GO VIRTUAL

Connect your child's friends on an app, such as Zoom or House Party, where they can all be together to sing Happy Birthday! Make a balloon arch or hang balloons and curly ribbon from the ceiling and have your birthday cutie sit in front of it for a cool backdrop.

GAME ON!

Play virtual party games with friends like charades, pictionary or email bingo cards or a list of scavenger hunt items for them to look for and share with each other. For older kids have them connect with friends online or through their gaming system.

WATCH PARTY

Choose a movie and a time. With apps like Kast you can use to watch a movie together on Netflix, Hulu, Disney+, HBO, Amazon Prime Video, YouTube, and even stream video games.

SING AND DANCE!

Have Alexa or Google sing Happy Birthday to the birthday kiddo and ask to play kids' birthday party music. Have a dance party. Include fun twists like play freeze dance or shine a flashlight on one person to "shine" at a time.

See our Pinterest Board for more ideas.
